USE & APPLICATION

OVERLAY SURFACE DRESSING

Our durable, flexible resin coats a variety of beautiful aggregates, which are then applied as a new surface layer over existing hard surfaces, including concrete and pavers. This solution is ideal for revitalizing worn or cracked surfaces without the need for costly excavation, saving both time and money. The result is a permeable surface that reduces water pooling while allowing water to drain off over the underlying impervious base.

NEW PERMEABLE E SURFACE

PermaStone Pro offers a durable yet permeable surface, with a binder that securely holds the stones together while maintaining voids between the particles. These gaps allow water to soak through, creating a fully permeable surface without gaps for weeds or potential trip hazards.

PermaStone Pro provides numerous benefits, including reduced surface runoff, enhanced tree health, and an improved soft-to-hard landscaping ratio.

POOL SURROUNDS RESURFACING

PermaStone Pro can be used as a stone overlay or topping, to resurface at 16mm depth, giving you the look of brand-new stone paving. Not only is it permeable, meaning no puddles form around the pool, but the textured pebble surface also gives good slip resistance whilst remaining smooth under bare feet.

Often an area of existing outdoor paving can become worn, uneven or cracked without losing its structural strength and integrity. Our permeable resurfacing can be used as a surface dressing to bring it back to life, looking better than ever and provides protection from longer term water based erosion.

Due to our two-part polyurethane being flexible, we can resurface evenly over cracked areas, and be installed smoothly over pavers and tiles too. It is also sustainable and cosmetically pleasing.
